60-inch 120-volt four-well 2-Series hot-food station with black base and cafeteria-style breath guards

The 2-Series hot-food station by Vollrath adds convenience and versatility to your buffet, cafeteria or other serving area. The seamless stainless steel work surface is durable and long-lasting, and the scratch-resistant vinyl-clad carbon steel exterior resists signs of wear to maintain its like-new appearance. Each well features a powerful 525-watt element, and high-density glass fiber insulation traps heat for impressive efficiency. Infinite controls allow precise temperature settings, helping you heat a variety of food items to ideal serving temperatures. The cafeteria-style acrylic breath guards offer superior protection against contaminants while still ensuring easy access to food items, and the black base creates a sleek appearance.
