4 ¼-quart Centurion® saucepan

The Vollrath® Centurion saucepan is impressively versatile, induction-ready and designed specifically for high-volume kitchens. Featuring straight sides and a wide, flat bottom, this saucepan has impressive heat conduction. The heavy-duty stainless steel construction resists discoloration and corrosion, allowing this pan to last for years, and prevents flavor retention for higher-quality results. The welded handle is impressively durable, provides a steady grip and features a hanging hole for convenient storage.
