9 ½-inch Centurion® fry pan

Ideal for frying a variety of foods, from eggs and fish to chicken pieces and pork chops, the Vollrath® Centurion fry pan is a valuable addition to your high-volume kitchen. The heavy-duty stainless steel construction resists discoloration and corrosion, allowing this pan to last for years, and prevents flavor retention for higher-quality results. This pan is induction-ready and features a natural finish that ensures even heating and uniform cooking. Welded handles provide convenient transportation, and a hanging hole promises convenient storage, while the rolled pan edge provides additional strength.
