7-quart Centurion® sauté pan in natural finish

The Centurion sauté pan by Vollrath offers exceptional versatility, reliability and performance. The heavy-duty stainless steel construction resists discoloration and corrosion, promising years of use, and prevents flavor retention for higher-quality results. This induction-ready pan features a natural finish and an aluminum-clad bottom that work together to ensure even heating and uniform cooking, and a straight-sided design allows you to sauté a wide range of food items with ease. A welded hollow handle, with a hang-hole for convenient storage, provides convenient transportation and a cool, comfortable grip.
