60-inch 120-volt 2-Series utility station with black base, open storage compartment and buffet-style breath guard

The 2-Series utility station by Vollrath is a mobile, versatile serving solution. The seamless work surface is made of 20-gauge 300-Series stainless steel for impressive durability and longevity. The base of the unit features a scratch-resistant vinyl-clad carbon steel exterior that resists signs of wear to maintain its like-new appearance. Buffet-style breath guard offers superior protection against contaminants while still ensuring easy access to food items. The black base creates a sleek appearance, and the open design offers a convenient storage area. Strong casters promise smooth maneuvering and can be locked during use.
